SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The site is a small country surrounded by water. The country has hills and has very dry land. The country can be considered isolated. The people at the site are watching and waiting.

There is a large white vessel in the waters to the left of the country. The vessel may be American.

There are containers currently in this country that are not usually here.

Some type of war will occur. The war will start from the west and move east.

A man is associated with the site. He has blonde hair and can be considered young. He is communicating with people through television. It looks as though this man is inside a tunnel.

A second man is associated with the site. This man may be considered a leader. He has dark hair and is heavy in weight. This man will have some type of down fall in the very near future and will never be in a position of power again.
